

OSIRIS Multiobject spectroscopy observations' cycle of life

D. García-Álvarez, G. Gómez-Velarde, and A. Cabrera-Lavers

GRANTECAN S.A.

Abstract

OSIRIS instrument at 10.4 m GTC offers Multi-Object spectroscopic mode since March 1st 2014. GTC telescope operates mostly in queue mode, hence several issues must be taken into account when programming MOS observations at the telescope. In this poster we describe the overall process from requesting a MOS observation via TACs up to the observation at the telescope, with the main particularities and limitations.