

PICK OF THE DAY

The All-Night Star Party

BBC2, 11.20pm

Sophie Raworth and Rajesh Mirchandani host a live special determined to change the way we see the universe. Celebrating the start of National Astronomy Week, the Lovell radio telescope at Jodrell Bank and the giant Isaac Newton telescope in the Canary Islands will be pointed heavenwards and broadcasting images of planets, galaxies, gas clouds and newly discovered asteroids. It's out of this world.
